DELIVERING FOR GOOD DISASTER PORTFOLIO

We are working with Direct Relief, International Medical Corps, American Red Cross, Heart to Heart International, Team Rubicon, Water Mission, The Salvation Army, Arbor Day Foundation and others to deliver relief supplies where they’re most needed.

Direct Relief relies on FedEx to help provide critical medical resources to survivors, doctors, and relief workers in the hardest hit areas in more than 80 countries. Direct Relief is the only humanitarian nonprofit accredited to distribute prescription medicines in all 50 U.S. states.

FedEx helped International Medical Corps increase the flexibility of its emergency response field hospital, which provides surge capacity for damaged or overwhelmed health centers. By warehousing the hospital in Memphis, FedEx ensures this critical resource can deploy anywhere in the world within 48 hours.

FedEx is the national sponsor of the Community Tree Recovery Program which provides trees for communities in the wake of natural disasters.

Team Rubicon unites the skills and experiences of military veterans with first responders to rapidly deploy emergency response teams. These teams assess damage using the latest technology, deploy the best volunteers in the business, and help residents salvage their homes in the aftermath of a disaster. Through disaster relief, Team Rubicon provides our veterans with renewed purpose, community, and identity.

The Salvation Army provides relief to 1–2 million disaster survivors and first responders each year in the United States.

Since 2006, FedEx has donated 21 emergency response vehicles to The Salvation Army’s fleet to help provide food and clean-up supplies to communities following disasters.

Since 1995, FedEx has delivered more than $500 million in aid to 100 countries with Heart to Heart International (HHI).

When responding to crises, HHI rapidly assesses and identifies needs and deploys health care practitioners to provide direct patient care.

Water Mission designs, builds and implements safe water, sanitation and hygiene solutions for people in developing countries and disaster areas.

FedEx ships water purification systems to provide access to safe drinking water.

Trees improve the quality of the air we breathe and the water we drink. They beautify our streets and shade our children. So when natural disasters strike, the loss of trees is much more than meets the eye.
